Hello (see attached).

I'm writing this on the return trip. Going through all of the photos I've taken the past couple of days has chewed up a significant portion of the flight from Amsterdam. Much better than watching a movie.

Once I was done with my work tasks, I packed my bags and headed to Tala Chorio, to visit with friends for a couple of days. During that period, we visited the Mosaics of Paphos in the houses of Dionysos, Theseus and Aion; the Odeion; Paphos Lighthouse; the Last Castle (an outdoor Greek restaurant high above the Mediterranean with a grape vine roof); the Agios Georgios Greek Orthodox Church at Cape Deprano; the 7 Tombs of the Kings; Troodos Square (near the top of Troodos Mountain, the tallest peak on Cyprus); the town of Omodos; drove through miles of vineyards cut into the mountainsides; Coral Bay (required souvenir shopping); ate goat cheese at a local establishment; and had an ice cream cone on the cliffs high above Aphrodite Rock (where the Greek Goddess of Love walked ashore).

It was hot, exhausting, and awesome.

Cheers,
G.
